CIBER WINS 2006 ORACLE NORTH AMERICA TITAN AWARD

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. – Oct. 24, 2006 – CIBER Enterprise Solutions, a division of CIBER, Inc. (NYSE: CBR), has won the 2006 Oracle® North America Titan Award in the PeopleSoft Application Solutions category for its development and implementation earlier this year of an Oracle® PeopleSoft Asset Tracking and Federal Billing enterprise resource planning (ERP) solution for state Departments of Transportation. Scott Hanson, Vice President of Alliances and Strategic Business Development for CIBER Enterprise Solutions, and Mike Dillon, Senior Vice President of CIBER Enterprise Solutions’ Oracle PeopleSoft Practice, accepted the award Sunday evening at an awards ceremony held in conjunction with the Oracle OpenWorld Conference in San Francisco.

CIBER is exhibiting at Oracle OpenWorld this year in booth #2112. Learn more online about the award and CIBER at www.ciber.com/events/openworld.

“Oracle’s Titan Award recognizes an outstanding solution that requires a strong understanding of customer requirements, specific technical expertise and industry knowledge, measurable business results, and obvious customer satisfaction,” said Rauline Ochs, Group Vice President, North America Alliances and Channels, Oracle. “As a Certified Advantage Partner in Oracle PartnerNetwork, CIBER has attained the highest membership level in our partner program for system integrators, which is our clients’ guarantee of quality when selecting a partner. Clearly Departments of Transportation make the right choice by selecting CIBER, and for CIBER’s success and achievements, we’re proud to award them with a 2006 Oracle North American Titan Award.”

For the award-winning project, CIBER implemented a PeopleSoft ERP system and built custom software solutions to help the Departments of Transportation efficiently manage assets and federal aid, a major source of revenue for the agency.

As a result of the project, the system is the only DOT system in the US offering a fully integrated human capital management, financial management, supply chain management, asset management, and asset maintenance ERP system.

“CIBER has helped numerous DOT’s around the country, such as Colorado DOT, Pennsylvania DOT, and the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, enhance their IT systems to increase their returns on investment in IT and realize tangible business results,” said Dillon. “We were honored to be chosen to help the state agency work toward its goal of having the most advanced IT system for a DOT in the U.S.”

The Titan Award joins several others CIBER has won recently, including the Oracle UK Innovation Partner Award and CA Partner of the Year Awards. CIBER also won the Financial Implementation Principal category of the June 2006 “Top 20 KLAS Mid-Year Report Card,” issued by KLAS Enterprises, LLC, an independent firm that monitors and measures the delivery of information technology to healthcare organizations.
